4 Amazing In-depth Conferences

Tuesday, March 29, 2011
AAHPERD 2011 National Convention and Exposition, San Diego, California

Come Together! Uniting School Professionals for Effective Sex Ed
This dynamic and highly interactive workshop will provide an update on the latest trends in adolescent sexual behavior, practice handling teachable moments and opportunity to examine issues related to confidentiality and agency policy regarding sexual health. It is designed to enable participants to facilitate similar activities back at their schools/organizations to help support other school staff in encouraging responsible sexual behavior among students.
Speakers: Nora Gelperin, Answer, Rutgers University, Piscataway, NJ; and Michelle Scarpulla, Answer, Piscataway, NJ

Dancing Away Stress
Do you know someone who has been impacted by STRESS? Isn't it time to do something about it! Join in promoting activities that increase awareness and prevention strategies. Step into a world of balanced living and showcase social/group activities and dances from around the globe. Samoan Slap Games, Bhangra from India, Bachata from Dominican Republic and more! Speaker: Dr. Wendy Guess, Dancing Classrooms North Texas, Krum, TX

Current Issues in Health Education
Alcoholimia and Drunkorexia: Revisiting the Drinking My Dinner Mindset: Rosanne S. Keathley, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, TX; Judy R. Sandlin, Texas A & M University, College Station, TX; and Diana E. Avans, Vanguard University, Costa Mesa, CA
Grabbing Red Bull by the Horns: Katharyn M. Emery, Truman State University, Sullivan, MO; Sarah A. Folks, Truman State University, Saint Louis, MO; Grace McGaughey, Truman State University, Crystal City, MO; Brenda S. Goodwin, Missouri State University, Springfield, MO; and Janice C. Young, Truman State University, Kirksville, MO
Relationship Management in the Year 2011: Lori A. Reichel, North Shore High School, Deer Park, NY
The Pharm Party – This Ain't No Hayride!: Janice Clark Young, Truman State University, Kirksville, MO; and Brenda S. Goodwin, Missouri State University, Springfield, MO

Health Education for Vulnerable Populations- Programming and Research Implications
This workshop will present strategies to address relevant and practical issues associated with programming and evaluation research methods appropriate when working with ethnic, racial or other vulnerable populations. Participants will be exposed to three major content areas: 1) Theoretical implications, 2) Practical implications and 3) A sampling of situational experiences from the literature related to programming and evaluation research with vulnerable populations. Speakers: Liliana Rojas-Guyler, University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH; Raffy R. Luquis, PhD,, CHES, Pennsylvania State University-Harrisburg, Middletown, PA; Fredanna A. D. M'Cormack, Coastal Carolina University, Conway, SC; and Kathleen J. Young, California State University-Northridge, Northridge, CA