The National Council for Accreditation for Coaching Education (NCACE) is pleased to announce three new coaching education providers, The Train 'Em Up Academy, Institute for Rowing Leadership and USA Track & Field, have joined NCACE's Registry. By joining NCACE's Registry, these organizations have indicated their intent of submitting their coaching education programs for accreditation review to NCACE. They join the current Registry members including Emporia State University, The School District of Philadelphia and USA Football.

"It is very encouraging to see these three coaching education providers asserting their intent to have their programs evaluated against the National Standards for Sport Coaches, upon which the NCACE review process is based," stated Christopher Hickey, NCACE Executive Director. "It is especially good to see another national sports governing body, USA Track & Field, joining USA Football, seeking accreditation of their coaching education programs."

Coaching education providers who join NCACE's Registry receive free training and application assistance for three years while they prepare to apply for accreditation.

The National Council for Accreditation of Coaching Education (NCACE), established by the US coaching education community with representatives include members from the single-sport, multi-sport, science/medical/educational fields, and colleges and universities, is concerned about the availability and quality of coaching education at all levels of sport. NCACE is a not-for-profit organization comprised of organizations and individuals involved in or supporting coaching and coaching education. NCACE supports, facilitates development of, and accredits coaching education programs and established program standards to conduct the program review for organizations seeking to provide effective coaching education programs at all levels.
